

Your dream wedding festival will be tailor-made to your own requirements but we'd like to offer an upfront indication of the costs.

The Wedding Festival Company delivers two types of wedding festivals, our signature fully managed event, where we undertake all of the set up, pack down and management of your festival and the more affordable DIY event, where you supply a crew of willing friends and family to set the event up and pack it down under our expert supervision. The difference in cost is usually around £2500.

Overleaf are the three standard packages that we offer with price guides beside them. weddings. It's also important to remember that the more guests that attend the lower the price per head becomes!

Please note – As festival weddings are bespoke in nature, the packages below are purely guidelines. Get in contact with one of our friendly festival experts to discuss your unique requirements and start planning your dream festival wedding today.
