

Press Release

Double reinforcement for the Vivonio group

Munich, 01/06/2022. Competent growth at the leadership level: With the new Managing Director of Technology at MAJA Möbel Kasendorf, Nicolas Kammerer, the Management Board is complete, with Oliver Hentze occupying the newly created role of Chief Procurement Officer (CPO) for the Vivonio Furniture Group.

MAJA Möbel strengthens management at the Kasendorf location: With Nicolas Kammerer as Managing Director of Technology, the management team is now complete. Around 260 employees produce flat-pack furniture for media, office and living over an area of 30,000 square metres in Kasendorf. MAJA Möbel Kasendorf managed highly successful development in the last couple of years despite the pandemic, based on the biggest and fast-growing product sector of home office furniture. Now the management duo of Peter Völkner, Commercial Managing Director, and Nicolas Kammerer will continue together on the course for growth in Kasendorf. After earning his graduate engineering degree with a speciality in mechanical engineering, Nicolas Kammerer spent the majority of his career in leadership positions in the automobile supply industry. Most recently, Mr Kammerer spent seven years as the Operations Director Germany and Eastern Europe for the office furniture manufacturer Haworth.

“With Nicolas Kammerer, we have found a highly seasoned executive to continue expanding capacity in Kasendorf”, says Elmar Duffner, CEO of the Vivonio Furniture Group. “Together with Peter Völkner, who also acts as the commercial managing director for Maja-Möbelwerk GmbH in Wittichenau, Mr Kammerer will now take over managerial responsibility for one of the fastest-growing companies in our portfolio”. Nicolas Kammerer will take over the role on 1 June 2022.

There is also some new business to report for the Vivonio Furniture Group. Oliver Hentze has been an asset to the Vivonio Group since February 2022. He holds the newly created position of Chief Procurement Officer (CPO) and is thus the head of procurement and responsible for developing the procurement strategy and coordinating procurement for all of the companies in the portfolio. "With Mr Hentze, we have found an established procurement manager with international experience", says Elmar Duffner. "We feel that having company-wide procurement for the entire Vivonio Furniture Group makes a lot of sense for both the current and future challenges in the procurement market". With roles at companies such as Accenture and Grohe AG, Oliver Hentze is a fantastic fit for this job. With the German equivalent of a Master's in Business Administration, he has accumulated extensive consulting expertise on procurement projects, in addition to his operative and strategic procurement experience in a variety of manufacturing companies.
