

Christmas at Crossness

It's Christmas so we thought we'd have a seasonally themed open day, particularly for children. This is an opportunity to explore the buildings and engines, take in the exhibition and learn something of the Victorian sewer system which continues to serve the capital. In addition:

- there will be a display of works by members of Artlab
- children, up to the age of eleven, will have an opportunity to visit Mrs Claus (Santa is a bit tied up at this time of year) and receive a small present. (Visits to Mrs Claus will not cost any extra but we do ask you to consider making a voluntary donation).

Families can join the learning team for a free make and take craft activity and explore the Crossness site with our children's activity trail.

NOTE: We are not able, at present, to run the engine which is normally operational on open days. Whilst this is disappointing a visit to the site is still very worthwhile.

There is an admission charge for this event:

Age 16 and over - £10.00,

Age 5-15 - £3.00,

Under 5 free

For tickets, please visit our website: <https://www.crossness.org.uk/visit.html>

Light refreshments will be available and the shop will offer some interesting items for sale.

Our car park is about 600m from the main building - blue badge holders* will be able to park much closer to the building. If you travel by public transport we are quite remote so it may be worth getting a taxi. Nearest station is Abbey Wood.

* please contact us a few days before by emailing us on info@crossness.org.uk or by telephone +44 (0)20 8311 3711

In the light of the latest announcements about the Covid-19 we request that you wear a mask when in buildings, unless you are exempt, and make use of the hand sanitisation stations. We are restricting the total number of people that can come to site during the event by limiting the number of tickets available.
