Craftsman Construction offers a unique approach when it comes to home construction. We manage the process by being completely hands-on, so no detail from foundation to roof is overlooked. There are too many horror stories of contractors sending personnel and sub-contractors to job sites without proper supervision by the contractor. This usually leads to costly mistakes by uninformed personnel.

For the past 25 years, Virginia has turned to Craftsman Construction when they wanted superior workmanship and attention to detail. Our extensive experience and pride in our workmanship guarantees that your job will be done right, no matter how large or small.

Creating the custom home of your dreams requires a tremendous amount of forethought and effort. Architectural design, engineering, permitting, selection of materials, and the actual construction process is overwhelming for most people. This is why Craftsman Construction is more than just a builder. We offer all these services under one roof; this ensures that your home is delivered on time, within budget, and with an unmatched level of craftsmanship.
