PUNTO BANCO 2000

Rules of the game

Punto banco 2000 – simple to learn, exciting to play! The perfect table game for beginners.

ESSENTIALS OF THE GAME

Aim of the game

Punto banco 2000 is played with six 52-card packs. Players can stand or sit at the table to take part. The aim of the game is to reach a maximum of 9 points with a minimum of two and a maximum of three cards.

Players can decide whether to back the banco (banker's) hand or the punto (player's) hand, or bet on a tie. The cards are drawn for the two hands as follows:

The first and third cards go to the punto hand and the second and fourth cards to the banco hand. If the first two cards of the punto or banco hand have a value of 8 or 9, no more cards may be drawn.

If the total value of the two cards is lower than 8 or 9, extra cards are drawn according to the rules. At the end of the game, the croupier announces the total value of both the punto and the banco hands.

If the banco hand has a higher value than the punto hand, the banco hand wins. If the punto hand has a higher value than the banco hand, the punto hand wins. If both hands have the same value, the round is a draw and all bets placed on a tie are paid out. Bets on punto and banco remain unchanged; they can be withdrawn or modified. The croupier manages the game and is responsible for collecting and paying out bets.

PLAYING CARDS

The value of the cards

Cards between 2 and 9 are counted at face value. The 10, jack, queen and king count as 0. Aces count as 1 point. If the total points of the two (or three) cards is a double-digit number, only the unit digit is counted.

Jack (0) + a three (3) = 3

A nine (9) + a five (5) = 14,
but because we only count
the unit digit = 4

A six (6) + a four (4) = 10,
but because we only count
the unit digit = 0
