THINGS TO DO IN EXETER

When it comes to culture Exeter is renowned in the south west for its independent arts scene. It is also firmly on the map as a destination for top sporting events and music.

A good mix of independent venues such as the Bike Shed Theatre and Exeter Phoenix, and large venues such as nearby Powderham Castle play host to a packed calendar throughout the year.

In Exeter we love the outdoors. The city's location in the heart of Devon, surrounded by miles of countryside and close to the World Heritage Jurassic Coast, means there are plenty of opportunities for adventure!

THINGS TO DO IN CHELTENHAM

Cheltenham offers a unique blend of city-style living within a Town environment. It combines attractions, cuisine and culture that can be easily explored in less than a 20-minute walk or 10-minute cycle from the town centre. It is also a great place to base a visit to the Cotswolds and other nearby destinations.

Cheltenham owes much to its Regency roots, which were pivotal in assuring its growth from a Medieval Manor village, to the Town it is today. A visit by King George III secured Cheltenham's reputation as a fashionable place to be seen, and this popularity contributed to its rapid growth during the Regency Period. This short and extensive expansion period has given the Town an abundance of Regency.

THINGS TO DO IN CHEPSTOW

Chepstow's Great Tower keep was commissioned by William the Conqueror barely a year after the Battle of Hastings, making this Britain's oldest surviving post-Roman stone castle.

Three major building phases followed. Overlooking the Wye, its position was highly strategic. We don't mind a bit if you pop across to the English side of the river – the views from there are fantastic. The sublime ruins of Tintern Abbey are less than six miles from the centre of Chepstow by bike, bus or car. From here, you can cross the Wye footbridge for a lovely woodland walk. Head for the Offa's Dyke Path to Devil's Pulpit, which offers dramatic views back to Tintern.
